A browser on the premises turned this up. In a collection called "Lanterns and Lances", published in 1961, the humorist James Thurber outlined eight rules for "How to Get Through the Day," starting with "Never answer a telephone that rings before breakfast." Here is Rule Three:

Avoid the ten o'clock news on the radio, at all costs. It is always confined to disasters—automobile accidents involving seventeen cars, the fatal stabbing of a fourteen-year-old girl by her twelve-year-old sweetheart, attacks on young mothers in Brooklyn basements, and riotous demonstrations by fifteen thousand students in Graustark. It is comforting, in a vaguely uneasy way, to realize that American students do not engage in political demonstrations, but reserve their passions for panty raids, jazz, festivals, and the hanging of football coaches in effigy.

What It Said

In his column on this page Thursday, David Lawrence clarified what he and many others have been guilty of confusing.

The matter concerned the famous Supreme Court prayer decision as one that forbade school prayer. What it did and all that it did was to rule against a "prescribed" prayer. It said that school authorities violate the separation doctrine when they require prayer. It said that school authorities violate the separation doctrine when they require prayer as a state function in a public school. Nothing in the ruling declared against prayer as a voluntary, unrequired act.—Florence (S.C.) Morning News

Gillham Dam Project on Appeal

LITTLE ROCK (AP)—Richard Arnold of Texarkana, attorney for the plaintiffs in a suit seeking to prohibit further construction of the Gillham Dam on the Cossatot River, filed an appeal today of U.S. District Judge G. Thomas Eisele's decision in the case.

The Army Engineers had previously appealed Eisele's Feb. 19 decision.

"The purpose of our appeal is to protect our rights to bring before the court of appeals the entire suit," Arnold said.

Eisele dismissed nine of the plaintiffs' 11 claims in the suit before ruling that the engineers could not resume construction of the dam until they made a thorough study of "all known possible environmental consequences" of the project.

Arnold said the plaintiffs probably would not prosecute their appeal unless the engineers proceeded with their action.

In his ruling, Eisele said the Engineers had failed to comply with a section of the National Environmental Policy Act of 1969. He said the section required the engineers to thoroughly explore the effects of the dam on the stream which flows through western Arkansas.

Work on the $15 million project began in 1963 and more than $9 million has been spent on structures related to the dam although no work has been done on the dam itself. The project is designed primarily for flood control.

Gang Chiefs Seized, Mob War Erupts

By JOSEPH DI LEO
Associated Press Writer

NEWARK, N.J. (AP) — The jailing of many of New Jersey's top gangland figures has touched off what some law enforcement officials term a gang war over the vacancies. Four persons have been murdered and a possible fifth victim has disappeared.

Police officials in Hudson County, considered the state's most mob-ridden area, and members of the New Jersey State Police Organized Crime Unit believe that some gangland elements in New York are attempting to fill the void. The result has been the series of slayings, all of which involve relatively minor underworld figures, and all of which are unsolved.

In the past two years, after widespread publicity about organized crime in the state, many of the top names have been jailed.

They include Gerardo Catena, reputed successor to the late Vito Genovese as the leader of a Cosa Nostra family in the New York metropolitan area. He was found guilty of contempt for refusing to answer questions of the State Investigation Commission—SIC.

Also in jail is Simone Rizzo "Sam the Plumber" DeCavalcante, reputed head of a New Jersey Mafia family. He was convicted of extortion, sentenced to 15 years, and is awaiting trial on other charges although the extortion conviction has been overturned on appeal.

But law enforcement officials say the present battle involves the empire said to be controlled by Joseph "Joe Bayonne" Zicarelli, the reputed underworld boss of Bayonne and several adjacent sections of Hudson County. He was convicted earlier this month on conspiracy charges stemming from payoffs to local officials to protect his gambling operations, and has begun serving a 10-year prison term. He was in jail before that for refusing to answer SIC questions.

The latest victim was William Pischedda, 34, whose bullet-riddled body was found April 27 in the trunk of his car in Rutherford, a North Jersey town about 10 miles west of New York City. Pischedda, who had a long arrest record but no convictions, was considered by law enforcement authorities to be an associate of a man once held as a material witness in one of the other murders.

Justice Dept.'s Top Tax Prober Checking Wallace's Friends

By JAMES R. POLK
Associated Press Writer

MONTGOMERY, Ala. (AP) — The Justice Department sent its top prosecutor on political cases into Alabama as a federal grand jury resumed its probe today of possible tax violations in the handling of campaign funds for Gov. George C. Wallace.

The prosecutor, William S. Sessions, heads the special section of the Justice Department's Criminal Division that handles campaign finance and other political wrongdoings. He huddled until dusk Wednesday with Internal Revenue Service investigators here.

The grand jury is probing whether false invoices were used for illegal tax returns. It is also investigating whether corporations made illegal contributions to the 1968 presidential race.

Sessions declined to answer whether he expected indictments might be returned in the next few days.

Seymore Trammell, who was Wallace's closest political aide until a split two years ago, was expected to be called to testify today.

The Case of a Civil Servant Who Knew Little of Politics

JACKSONVILLE, Ark. (AP) —William E. Cook Jr., a clerk in Jacksonville Municipal Court, said Wednesday he was fired by Mayor John H. Harden after he called the mayor's office and the Jacksonville News to complain about a city fire truck being used to fill a private swimming pool. The owner of the swimming pool, it was learned, was the mayor's cousin.

Cook said he noticed the fire

Economy Is Heading Up, All Signs Say

NEW YORK (AP) — There is little doubt now that the economy is moving ahead again. The Gross National Product is growing, the rate of inflation is falling, and consumers are beginning to spend again.

You can go down the list and seem to prove a case: Housing starts are way up, corporation incomes are showing strength, the carmakers are talking about record sales, the stock market is soaring.

But no matter how many indications you amass and no matter how you shine them up, they hardly penetrate the black clouds that are boiling on the job front.

Unemployment, many forecasters are saying, won't fall much this year.

It is now at 5.8 per cent of the civilian labor force, and expert opinion declares that a rate of less than 5 per cent in 1971 would only compound the original problem, which is inflation.

Remember? The cure for inflation was to slow the economy, which meant less production and buying and, of course, fewer jobs. Now the goal is to keep the economy from reheating too quickly, and that means no great drop in unemployment.

But this theoretical solution to economic imbalance is not one that easily submits to an actual decision. Human beings are involved, and this is not a totalitarian state. Nobody can dictate results. Regardless of abstract economic considerations, the jobless want jobs, the employed want higher wages.

And to the pleas that big demands on the job front could mean the refiring of inflation come the reply from workers: "We are not statesmen. Our wages have not kept pace with prices. Our first concern is to our families."

many earlier this month that a Mobile advertising executive issued invoices to certain campaign donors at Trammell's request in 1966 when Wallace's late wife, Lurleen, was elected as stand-in governor for him.

Wallace's brother, Gerald, a Montgomery lawyer, also is reported to be involved in the probe.

The grand jury is returning from a two-week recess after having heard four days of initial testimony about tax records and campaign contributions from state contractors.

The investigation already has touched on companies and persons doing business with the state government in school textbooks, building supplies, liquor sales, dock facilities, bond issues and highway contracts.

Lake Roads to Be Surfaced

WASHINGTON (AP) — Sen. John L. McClellan, D-Ark., announced today that a contract for surfacing recreational area roads and parking areas at Bull Shoals, Lake Norfolk and Lake Dardanelle will be awarded to Charles Cohen, a Tulsa, Okla., contractor.

truck parked in the middle of the street in a residential area of Jacksonville. He said the truck was blocking traffic and that cars had to detour a block to get around.

"I didn't like that a bit," Cook said, "so I called the mayor's office a couple of times but he wasn't in. . . so then I called the Jacksonville News."

Cook said he did not know the house belonged to the mayor's cousin.

2 Million to Lose Part of Food Stamps

WASHINGTON (AP) — Two million of the 10.5 million persons getting food stamps will lose part or all of their allotment under new federal regulations, a government memorandum released today said.

Other estimates say the figure could go higher.

The proposed changes, resulting from the Department of Agriculture's interpretation of revised food stamp legislation Congress passed last year, were announced April 15 and are to take effect within 30 days.

Sen. George S. McGovern, D-S.D., chairman of the Senate Select Committee on Nutrition, called hearings for today in an effort to pressure the department into easing its new regulations.

The department's original announcement gave no estimate of how many persons would be affected by the regulations, but figures are available in a memorandum from a Department of Health, Education and Welfare official made public in advance of today's hearings.

"Agriculture estimates that, out of 10.5 million food stamp recipients, 340,000 will be made ineligible by the new schedule and another 1.7 million will be made worse off," the memo said.

It added "many recipients will receive higher benefits than they get now," but gives no figures.

The memo from James R. Storey of HEW's Family Planning Assistance section was addressed to Robert Patrickelli, a HEW deputy undersecretary.

When the Agriculture Department announced the new regulations, it proposed national income eligibility standards be set up for operating food stamp programs uniformly in all states.

In the past, all welfare recipients were eligible for food stamps. Now, income will be a determining factor as well as financial reserves such as bank accounts.

For example, families of laid-off workers such as those from the Boeing Corp. in Seattle, Wash., who have no income but money in the bank, would no longer be eligible, the aides said.

Another provision eliminates stamps for unrelated persons living together. The aides said this could penalize many elderly couples who live together but are not married.

Nutrition committee aides disclosed that prepared testimony by Ronald Pollack, director of the Food Research and Action Center in New York City, asserted more than a million others may suffer under other provisions of last year's bill.

Nixon Press Conference Tonight

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Nixon will hold his first news conference at the White House in almost two months tonight, the White House says.

The conference, open to live radio and television coverage, will start at 9 p.m. EDT. All three networks will carry the conference.

U.S. Stepping Out of the 2-China War

WASHINGTON (AP) — In a new move to improve relations with China, the United States is seeking to detach itself from the long quarrel between Peking and the Nationalist government over the status of Formosa. "Obviously," a State Department spokesman said, "We can't hope to resolve the dispute between the two rival governments."

Press officer Charles Bray also told a news conference Wednesday the ultimate settlement of the Formosa issue is a matter for negotiation between the two Chinese regimes. The United States should not be a go-between.

At the same time Bray reaffirmed the U.S. intention to abide by its defense commitments to the Nationalist government on Formosa. This came in the context of a statement that whatever solution is reached eventually "it should be accomplished by peaceful means."

The ultimate fate of Formosa, or Taiwan as it is otherwise known, has been a major issue raised by China over the years in scores of ambassadorial talks between the Peking government and the United States.

The new American move appears to be aimed at least in part in putting the issue aside insofar as the future development of Washington-Peking exchanges is concerned.

There are no indications whatever, diplomats report, that a direct negotiation between mainland China and Nationalist China over this or any other important question is likely in the predictable future.

On one earlier occasion Bray had said in discussing some U.S. relaxation of restraints on travel to China that the settlement of the future of Formosa "ought more properly to be discussed by the parties themselves."

That was on March 15 and it attracted little attention at the time. He repeated it Wednesday in the course of an exchange with newsmen which developed the significance of the position as a further adjustment of U.S. policy in the changing China situation.

Rain Likely for Arkansas Thursday

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
The chance of thundershowers is included in the Arkansas forecast through Friday.

Showers and light rain returned to the state Wednesday night and showers and thundershowers were expected in the state today. Most of the thundershowers were expected to occur in the southern portion of the state with the possibility of a few severe thundershowers this afternoon.

The shower activity is not expected to alter the temperature pattern.

Highs today should range from the high 60s north to mid 70s south with highs Friday mostly in the 70s.

War Dead of Decade Now Total 45,000

SAIGON (AP) — The U.S. Command confirmed today that American battlefield deaths have passed the 45,000-mark in a decade of fighting in Vietnam.

The command said 45 U.S. servicemen were killed in action last week to raise the war total to 45,019 as of midnight Saturday.

The command also reported 518 Americans were wounded last week to bring to 298,289 that total since Jan. 1, 1961.

Last week's 45 combat deaths were nine less than the previous week but the 418 wounded more than doubled the 195 reported for the week earlier.

Reds Offer Limitation on Missiles

NEW YORK (AP) — Soviet negotiators in Vienna have proposed a five-year Soviet-U.S. treaty limiting each nation's missile defenses to 100 inter-ceptor missiles around Moscow and Washington, the New York Times said today.

In a story from Washington, the newspaper quoted administration officials as saying the proposal added two major details to a general proposal made by the Soviets last fall at the strategic arms limitation talks at Helsinki, Finland.

The new elements were treaty length and number of missiles, the Times said. The original broad proposal expressed preference for a defense-only agreement protecting the capitals.

The latest proposal was made in draft treaty form during the fourth round of the arms limitation talks between the United States and the Soviet Union, which began in Vienna March 15, the newspaper said.

New Bomb Blast Hits Bank America

LOS ANGELES (AP) — A black powder bomb explosion blew a foot-wide hole in the roof of a Bank of America branch near downtown Wednesday night, police bomb squad investigators said.

The 9 p.m. blast damaged the attic area used for record storage and knocked a six-inch hole in the ceiling, police said. There was no fire and no one was injured.

A janitor, Jerry Vignol, was in the building at the time. Police said he told them he saw no one near the bank nor heard any unusual noises before the explosion. No suspects were in custody.

Earlier Wednesday an Oakland branch sustained what a bank official termed "one of the worst" in the recent series of bombing attacks against the bank.

What police called a pipe bomb exploded outside the entrance just before employees were due to report for work. The blast shattered a dozen windows.

Officials estimate losses at more than half a million dollars, including from $7,000 to $10,000 Wednesday at the Oakland branch. No monetary loss was immediately reported in the Los Angeles bombing.

Highway Death Investigated

WYNNE, Ark. (AP) — An investigation was continuing today into the death of Ernest Creekmore, 29, of Wynne whose body was found Wednesday on Arkansas 39 near Fair Oaks (Cross County).

State Police speculated that Creekmore's car ran out of gas and he was walking to a service station and was struck by a car.

Creekmore's car was parked about two miles from where his body was found.

Kotouc Is Acquitted by Military

By WILLIAM L. CHAZE
Associated Press Writer

FT. MCPHERSON, Ga. (AP) — A jury of seven career Army officers acquitted Capt. Eugene M. Kotouc today of charges that he maimed a prisoner after the 1968 raid on the South Vietnamese village of My Lai.

The jury, all but one of which are veterans of Vietnam, deliberated slightly more than an hour. Kotouc, an intelligence officer at the time of the assault, stood stiffly at attention as the verdict was read.

Friends and relatives in the paneled military courtroom cheered the verdict.

Outside the courtroom, surrounded by family, the round-faced balding officer told newsmen he would remain in the Army.

"It's the best damned Army in the world, I'll tell you," said Kotouc. "I'm very happy," he said. "I'm pleased to be living in a country where we have a system of justice like the one we have." He said he was indebted to his attorneys and "thousands of Americans."

Kotouc is the third American soldier to be acquitted on charges arising from the My Lai assault and its aftermath. Acquitted earlier of assault charges were S. Sgt. David Mitchell of St. Francisville, La., and Sgt. Charles Hutto, of Talulah, La.

Dismissal of Appeal Is Set Aside

ST. LOUIS (AP) — The dismissal of an appeal in the Watson Chapel school desegregation order was set aside Wednesday by the U.S. 8th Circuit Court of Appeals following the discovery of a clerical error.

Word Is From Paris Parley

PARIS (AP) — North Vietnam offered today to open immediate negotiations with the United States on a date for an unconditional withdrawal of all American forces from South Vietnam.

The proposal, made by Hanoi negotiator Xuan Thuy at the 11th weekly session of the Vietnam peace talks, was the first offer to "negotiate" a withdrawal date.

Previously, North Vietnam and the Viet Cong have demanded that the United States unilaterally set a date for its total withdrawal before negotiations can begin.

Thuy said Hanoi and the Viet Cong were ready to open negotiations "today, tomorrow or any day of your choice" on fixing an unconditional American withdrawal date. These talks, he said, would be followed by negotiations on the security of withdrawing forces and the liberation of prisoners.

At the same time, Viet Cong Foreign Minister Mrs. Nguyen Thuy Binh put forward what seemed like a trial balloon offer of an unconditional cease-fire with American forces.

"At the very moment when the Nixon administration refuses to put an end to the war," she said, "the South Vietnamese population and its armed forces are prepared to cease firing on American soldiers who do not undertake any hostile action against them."

At the end of the closed session, a newsmen asked Thuy whether Mrs. Binh's offer applied to North Vietnamese forces.

Thuy replied that North Vietnamese forces were responsible for defending North Vietnam, but added: "Mrs. Binh's proposal concerns the liberation armed forces of South Vietnam the Viet Cong and the American forces. The proposal demonstrates the Vietnamese people's humanitarian feelings and sincere desire for peace."

U.S. chief negotiator David K. E. Bruce, asked to comment on Mrs. Binh's statement told newsmen: "She did not truly propose to cease-fire or anything else that was new."

Bruce and South Vietnamese delegate Pham Dang Lam called on North Vietnam to name a neutral country or international organization to act as "protective power" for prisoners held by both sides. Lam also asked Thuy to name a neutral country to which Saigon could transfer 1,200 prisoners held for more than four years for "temporary internment."

Woman Tells of Murder in Carey Trial

LITTLE ROCK (AP) — A prosecution witness testified Wednesday in Circuit Court here that Andrew Carey, 28, of Little Rock told her he had killed a man and took her to a dirt road to show her a "form" that he said was the body of his victim.

Miss Sherrill Draper, 23, of Little Rock made the statements during the first-degree murder trial of Carey.

Miss Draper said she was "drugged" and "dealing in drugs" at the time. She said during cross-examination that she didn't remember the day clearly and didn't mind "having her memory refreshed."

Big Crowd Expected at Fair Park

The Hope High School Student Council is preparing for a huge crowd at the "May Day Family Fun Festival", May 1 at the Fair Park grounds. Admission is $1.50 adults and $1.00 students. Tickets will be sold at the gate only. The music will begin at 9:30 a.m. and will end at 7 p.m.

The two types of music, Country and Rock, are expected to bring both young and old into the park gates to hear bands from all of Arkansas and parts of Texas, to enjoy the new park facilities, and just to have a good time.

The country bands will set up under the bandstand near the tennis courts and will feature Freddy and Kate of Little Rock. They have several records out, and have displayed their talents over the south. They are a husband-wife combination who perform their own material plus play country favorites for the enjoyment of adults. Another country band featured will be the very popular Edna and The Misfits of Hempstead County. They have won wide acclaim for their style of country-western music. The group features the vocals of Edna Gibson, who with her talented voice, is sure to be a crowd pleaser. The Country Edition of Murfreesboro, is led by Doyle Marshall. They have made a number of appearances over South Arkansas and over parts of Texas. The Country Edition will spotlight the best of current country music, and they are sure to be another crowd pleaser. Last but not least are Hank and The Stump Jumpers of Texarkana. They will be making their first appearance in this part of the state Saturday. The Stump Jumpers include steel guitarist, Jim Evans, who has set in on many recording sessions with nationally known musicians, and has also played in various bands in Texas and Arkansas. Hank and The Stump Jumpers are warmly received wherever they play, and the country music fans who attend the "May Day Family Fun Festival" will find out why.

The Rock and Soul bands will play in Legion Field and include a very impressive list of top quality musicians. Kenny Wayne and The Kamotions are a professional rock group secured by Candy Cane Talent. They consider Kenny Wayne and group the finest band they've handled since the Uniques. Also appearing will be Freedom Creed of Little Rock. Tom Head, band leader, says Freedom Creed will be combining the best of top 40 hits, plus super soul sounds. Freedom Creed is sure to be a hit at the festival, just as they have at several college campuses. Wolf River Water Shed, who hails from Ouachita Baptist University, will highlight their performance with the increasingly popular folk rock sounds. Their popularity with college crowds alerted this band to the attention of council talent scouts. Dead On Arrivals, of Wake Village, Texas will be another group to give special attention. This five piece band will fill everyone's musical taste, and their versatility will surely grip the masses. Their manager is D. T. Hallisey. Teddy Bee and The Stingers will "sting" the crowd with their unusual music and entertaining. They have prepared a special act just for the festival. The Stingers have gained popularity in Arkadelphia and on the Ouachita Campus. This all day affair will begin at 9:30 and continue until 7:00. There will be several concession stands which will sell soft drinks, hamburgers, candy, and other goodies.

For those who have small children, baby sitting and sitters will be provided to entertain the children while Mom and Dad spend a relaxing day enjoying the music.

The Student Council urges all citizens to support this project since all proceeds will go to the drug education program in Hempstead County. Also each group is nice enough to play for such a benefit and each has spent time and money in coming here. The Student Council is aware of the drug problem in the county, but the problem can become history with full support from every Hempstead County citizen. The "May Day Family Fun Festival" is intended to be entertaining for every member of the family, and families are urged to come early and stay late.

Council members involved in the project include Tommy Holt and Mike Huckabee, acquiring the music and the preparation of fair grounds. Sandra McFarland, Rebecca Stuart, Betty Ruth Honeycutt, who will be in charge of refreshments, and Alan Foster, Lester Sitzes, and Billy McCorkle, heading a committee to build a platform for the bands to perform on.

Also involved in helping the bands set up are Don Ogden, Steve Harris, Kenneth Ellis, and Tommy Frazier.

Manning the refreshment trucks will be council members Paul Young, Rodney Steele, Tim White, Rusty Quillen, Jack Turner, and Robert Jones.

Mona Rowe, Carol Frazier, Jill Herring, and Henrietta Woods will be in charge of ticket sales at the gate.

Also helping will be members of the new 71-72 Student Council and students of Hope High.

RISE IN EXPORTS
NEW YORK (AP) — Continued expansion of U.S. exports to Latin America was forecast by Harold B. Scott, Director of the Bureau of International Commerce, U.S. Department of Commerce. Growth in export trade to Latin America, he said, would probably be more modest than the 15 per cent increase between 1969 and 1970, when exports grew to $6.4 billion.

HOPE (ARK.) STAR, Printed by Offset Terry Bradshaw at Fair Park Saturday

TERRY BRADSHAW

Terry Bradshaw, quarterback of the Pittsburgh Steelers Pro Football team and No. 1 rookie draft choice of the 1970-71 NFL season, will be one of the three guest speakers to appear at the Hope High School Student Council-sponsored Family Fun Festival.

All the proceeds of this affair will go to the C.O.D.E. program, a drug program associated with "Smart-Set International Inc." a world wide drug fighting organization.

Hempstead County's local program was fathered by the Rev. Gordon Renshaw of the Unity Baptist Church of Hope, Ark.

Speaking on the program with Terry Bradshaw will be Dallas Football Stars Bob Hayes, at one time the world's fastest human, and Cornell Greene, defensive cornerback and a four-year all-pro Cowboy.

As an added attraction, Arkansas' own Lt. Governor, Dr. Bob Riley will be on hand for his comments.

EL DORADO, Ark. (AP) — Two El Dorado policemen suffered minor injuries Wednesday during an altercation between police and blacks that grew out of a cheerleader election at Rogers Junior High School here.

Police Chief Robert Pennington said eight Negroes were arrested on charges of disturbing the peace, interfering with a police officer and disobeying a police officer.

A spokesman said the disturbance began when about 150 Negro pupils walked out of class to protest an election Tuesday in which no Negro was elected cheerleader.

Pennington said four or five windows were broken out in the gymnasium by pupils throwing rocks. He said, however, police dispersed the crowd in about 30 minutes.

Chemist to Check on Dogs

LITTLE ROCK (AP) — Woodson - Tenent Laboratories of Memphis and North Little Rock was selected Wednesday by the state Racing Commission as the chemist for the first 57 days of the proposed 114-day racing season of greyhound racing at Southland Park in West Memphis.

The naming of a chemist to conduct tests on dogs at the West Memphis track and on thoroughbreds at Oaklawn Park in Hot Springs became a controversial issue earlier this year.

A bill was introduced in the Arkansas Senate that was reported to have been designed to give the contract to an Arkansas firm, Morton Consultants, Inc., of Little Rock. The bill died in the Senate.

Quarterback in Pittsburgh Steelers history to start in at first-team quarterback his first year with the team. Also, worth mentioning, is the fact that Bradshaw beat out Terry Hanratty, long time veteran of the Pittsburgh team.

Terry is a native of Shreveport La., and attended school at L.S.U. where he made All-State in that state. An outstanding young leader Terry has done much work with such organizations as the VISTA and Peace Corps program. The earlier part of this year while dining at the White House with President Nixon, a close aid of the President's commented that he "had never seen the President so entranced as well as impressed with any young man he had met."

Terry's highest Athletic honor, is of course the fact that he was chosen in the early part of 1970 as the NFL Number 1 Rookie draft choice. "This", according to Bradshaw, "was second only to the honorary day my friends in Shreveport conducted." Terry is referring to the "Terry Bradshaw Day" an annual event in Shreveport which takes place in July of each year. Bradshaw explains, "The thing that really got to me about the event in my home town was that, I guess, as a boy, not a very "well to do", I might add, my dream was becoming the greatest son my mom and dad could ever hope to have, and this was the proudest moment of their life."

Terry has appeared as a guest on the "Tonight Show" as well as an upcoming movie with ex-Kansas City Chief star Fred Williamson entitled "Charlie", due to be released next fall.

The "Fun Festival" will begin at 9:30 a.m. on Saturday, May 1 at Fair Park. Tickets for this event which will include several Country and Western, Rock and Soul groups, tickets will be available at the gate. Prices will be $1.50 for adults and $1.00 for students.

This event concludes at 7:00 p.m. and the Forum on Drug Abuse will begin at 7:30 p.m. A separate ticket for this event must be purchased for this function. Advance tickets are $1.00 for adults and $.50 for children under 12. Tickets at the gate of the Third District Livestock Coliseum where the affair is to take place will be available beginning at 7:00 p.m. and are $1.50 for adults and $.75 for children under 12.

FBI Gets 1st Break in Capitol Blast

By MARK BROWN
Associated Press Writer
WASHINGTON (AP) — The arrest of a 19-year-old woman, who the government says has "personal knowledge" of the March 1 bombing of the U.S. Capitol, is the first visible break in a 60-day-old FBI manhunt for those responsible.

Arrested and held under $100,000 bond to ensure her appearance before a Seattle, Wash., grand jury investigating the bombing was Leslie Bacon, daughter of an Atherton, Calif., lumberman and a member of an antiwar group sponsoring demonstrations here.

An FBI agent who testified at Miss Bacon's bond hearing in U.S. District Court Wednesday said the girl is suspected of being a participant in the bomb incident.

However, she was being held as a material witness rather than a defendant. A three-judge appeals court panel scheduled arguments today on a petition by her lawyers for her release.

Special Agent Daniel C. Mahan said the FBI was told by a government informant identified at the bond hearing only as "S1" that Miss Bacon "had personal knowledge of the events" involving the Capitol blast. He said the informant learned this "from conversations with Miss Bacon."

First word of Miss Bacon's arrest came Wednesday afternoon when her lawyers asked the district court to reduce her bond, a request denied by Judge John J. Sirica.

She was apprehended at 8:30 p.m. Tuesday night by FBI agents.

In Atherton, a plush San Francisco suburb, Miss Bacon's mother said the arrest of her daughter was "all a big mistake."

Mahan testified at the bond hearing that informant S1 told the government she would flee rather than answer the subpoena to testify before the grand jury.

Miss Bacon's lawyer, Philip Hirschkop, maintained the government failed to show that Miss Bacon would not voluntarily answer the subpoena. He asked Judge Sirica to quash the

Legislator Loses Checks to IRS

LITTLE ROCK (AP) — The Internal Revenue Service has claimed state Sen. Darrell W. Johnson's last two checks from the Senate for the 1971 legislative session.

The IRS said the checks totaling $900 were claimed because of tax debts totaling $1,040.

When the legislative session ended April 2, Johnson of Van Buren was scheduled to receive a $240 check for per diem of $20 a day since March 22 and a $660 check for contingent expenses of $30 a day since March 12.

IRS tax liens on file in the Crawford County circuit clerk's office at Van Buren show that Johnson owed $379.12 in income taxes on his 1969 return and $619.46 in withholding taxes collected from employees of his law office.

The liens were filed in March. Interest increased the debt to $1,040.

Johnson said Wednesday his tax troubles stemmed partly from his Senate campaign last year. "I committed myself to my campaign 100 per cent—at the expense of taxes and everything else," Johnson said.

As for the withholding taxes, which employers are supposed to remit quarterly to the IRS, Johnson said: "I just let them go and got behind in them. I have no excuse for it. I am not proud of it."

Johnson, 39, serving his first term in the Senate, said Lee Reaves, secretary of the Senate, was in Fort Smith Sunday for a speech. He said Reaves brought the two checks with him for Johnson to endorse over to the IRS. Johnson said he endorsed them.

warrant for her arrest, but his motion was denied.

In cross-examination, Hirschkop asked FBI agent Mahan: "Is she suspected of being a participant in the bombing of the Capitol?"

"Yes," Mahan replied. "Then she's wanted as a potential defendant?" the lawyer continued.

"I don't know that," the agent answered. The warrant was based on an affidavit signed April 22 by U.S. Atty. Stan Pitkin of Seattle contending that Miss Bacon has "personal knowledge of the circumstances and the persons responsible" for alleged crimes the grand jury is investigating.

Sullivan said the investigation involves "matters of national security, including the bombing of the U.S. Capitol."

The Justice Department had no comment on why the Seattle grand jury was investigating the Capitol bombing. Pitkin also refused comment.

Hirschkop told reporters Miss Bacon had lived at the commune, which housed a number of members of the Mayday war protest group, for several weeks. Prior to that, he said, she had cared for the children of an Alexandria, Va. couple.

The 1:32 a.m. explosion in a lower level of the Senate wing of the Capitol was preceded by 30 minutes by a call warning of the blast and stating: "This is in retaliation for the Nixon move in Laos."

Within the next few days, reports circulated that the Capitol switchboard had received calls seeking information on the blast, shortly after it occurred, from Spokane, Wash., and Chicago. The calls reportedly were placed before word of the explosion could have traveled to such distant points.

The FBI has declined comment on those reports and others on the investigation.

The explosion was centered

Television and Radio

By CYNTHIA LOWRY
AP Television-Radio Writer
NEW YORK (AP) — There is something about watching reruns of a television series after it has been canceled. Very often it looks a little better than it did the first time.

"The Men from Shiloh," for instance, started the season looking less interesting as family entertainment than it did through all those seasons when, as "The Virginian," the half-dozen series regulars worked as a team. The stars were split up, each having his own adventures.

Obviously, the remodeling failed, and the series is down the NBC drain. Still, Wednesday night's story which the Virginian-James Drury—had to himself added up to acceptable escape fare.

It was one of those oft-told Western tales in which the hero is mistaken for a murderer and almost hanged. In this case, the noble, steely-eyed Virginian escaped the noose that was literally around his neck and galloped off to find the culprit. There was the usual amount of skulking around and shooting, but it kept the viewer awake. It is hard to see how one could sit quietly through it for a second time, however.

"Music Hall," another series NBC is dropping after a long run, will return occasionally next season as a special. Week in and week out, this has been a true variety hour with assorted hosts, guest stars and types of light entertainment. Perhaps the most attractive of the lot have been the handful of programs with comedian Alan King at the helm.

The rerun Wednesday had some moments with King at his best in a slashing monologue. He flailed away wittily at some of his favorite targets, from doctors who won't make house calls to toasters that pop up with overdone or underdone toast.

While King does inject himself in some areas where he is not at his best, singing with Lena Horne, for instance, he is a pretty good sketch actor.

YOUTH ASKED FOR IT!

This column is for young people, their problems and pleasures, their troubles and fun. As with the rest of Helen Help Us!, it welcomes laughs but won't dodge a serious question with a brush-off.

Send your teenage questions to YOUTH ASKED for it, care of Helen Help Us! this newspaper.

IT ISN'T THE SAME

Dear Helen:

I've been going with this boy for two weeks and he gave up cigarettes just because I asked him to. He hasn't smoked in two days!

Last night he said he's proved how much he loves me (by quitting cigarettes), so it's my turn. I said I wasn't ready and he got mad.

Today I was showing off my new driver's license at lunch hour. He came up and looked over my shoulder, pointed to where it says "Sex: F," and said, so everyone could hear: "No lie! She sure flunks that one!" Later, he wrote me a note, asking if I'd changed my mind, or should he sign himself "Smoky"?

I'm sorta attracted to him. What should I say? —DON'T REALLY WANT TO

Dear DRWT: Say: "NO! — Signed, FLUNKY." —H.

Dear Helen:

I am almost 14. Sometimes I think things are great and it's good to be alive. That's when I'm away from home. It's awful when I'm with my parents because they're always fighting. It doesn't take much to start them off—the weather, the way I tie my shoes. They don't just yell at each other. Everything I do is wrong, too... mainly so they can blame each other for the way I was raised.

To be honest, I cause my share of arguments. It's catching, see. But I can't take much more. I start getting tense when I'm two blocks from home, 'cause I know what's waiting.

My girl friend and I are planning to run away, but New York is too dangerous and California too far. I don't really want to go, but if the screaming gets too much, where's the safest place for runaways? —DESPERATE BUT AFRAID

Dear D but A: There's NO safe place for 13-year-old runaways! Don't take that route or you may mess up for good.

Perhaps fights might lessen if you'd stop contributing to them and calmly suggest that your parents either see a counselor or put you in a foster home.

Constant battles sometimes get so accustomed to the noise that they don't realize it can drive their children frantic. If this is the case, a quiet ultimatum from you will be heard much louder than screaming.—H.

Dear Helen:

My brother and I used to fight a lot—until one day Mom tape-recorded a typical brawl, and played it back to us next morning when we were half-way peaceful.

Helen, it was the funniest thing we ever heard. Or should I say silliest.

I can't say we've stopped fighting completely, but half the time now we end up laughing because we know how ridiculous we must sound. Maybe all families should tape-record their kid's battles.—SIS

Dear Sis: And that includes the fighting elders too. (DESPERATE BUT AFRAID: Take note!) —H.

Cats Down Blevins 9-3 for 6th Win

By BILL MOORE

Star Sports Writer

He took one and then hit one. That's what Bubba Powers did yesterday in the first inning, putting the ball over the right-center field fence some 320 feet.

Hope's Bobcats went on to bomb the Blevins Hornets, 9-3, while the Bobcat hurlers allowed just three hits.

Blevins was not able to score in the top half of the first and so coming in to bat, Hope immediately went to work.

Buddy Ingram singled, moved to second on a ground ball and scored on Mike Downs' single. Then Powers came to the plate, took a called strike, and slammed the next pitch over the fence to give Hope a 3-0 lead.

With the Hornets scoring runs in the second and third innings, they closed the gap to one run. However, two runs by the Cats in the bottom of the third and four in the sixth, put the game on ice.

Downs took the win, his first of the year against no losses, while Lynn Norton was credited with his second save of the year.

Buddy Ingram and Bill Moore each had a pair of singles in four times at bat to lead the team in batting, while Powers had his first homer.

The next game will be Monday afternoon, at four o'clock, at Legion Field, against Taylor.

Hope Golfers Preparing for District

By BILL MOORE

Star Sports Writer

A winning season already attained, the HHS golfers are now getting ready for the district tournament, Friday, at Camden. Hope's last game, last Saturday against Fordyce, boosted the golfers record to 6-3, as they whipped the Redbugs, 335-402.

Overall medalist honors went to Hope's Jack Turner, with a 6 over par 76, while twin brothers, Jimmy and Jerry posted identical 83's, and Tim Hogan shot 93. Fordyce was led by Bobby Baker, with an 81, and Robin Wynne with a 92.

In the district tournament Friday, Camden is favored, playing on their home course, but most of all because they have four fine golfers, all of whom can shoot under 80. There are three seniors and one freshman.

Magnolia and Hope are both ranked second with Hope being the dark horse.

Tribe Wins Game Without McDowell

By KEN RAPPOPORT

Associated Press Sports Writer

Sam McDowell wanted more wampum and the Cleveland Indians told their ace southpaw that he could take his fastball and go and whistle in the dark. So all of a sudden, Sam settled for $72,000 and unhappily reported to spring training camp this year, vowing to have a great season despite bitter feelings against Manager Alvin Dark.

"I intend to have another good year for the Indians, but that doesn't mean I have to like working for them," said the strikeout master.

The best-laid plans of pitchers often go astray, however, and McDowell is off to one of his worst starts. He hasn't won a game, and Wednesday night departed suddenly before Cleveland took a 3-2 decision over California.

McDowell pitched well enough to win most games, but left with the contest tied 2-2 after seven strong innings. Gomer Hodge then delivered the winning run with a ninth inning sacrifice fly to give the victory to veteran reliever Camilo Pascual.

Prior to Wednesday night's no-decision, McDowell lost 3-0 to Baltimore, 4-0 to Washington and 5-2 to Kansas City.

In the other American League games, Boston battered Milwaukee 10-3; Washington tripped Minnesota 4-3; Detroit edged Kansas City 2-1 in 10 innings and Oakland took Baltimore 5-4. Rain postponed Chicago at New York.

National League scores: Chicago 3, Montreal 2; Pittsburgh 7, Los Angeles 5; San Francisco 5, Atlanta 3; Cincinnati 6, San Diego 5; Houston 4; Philadelphia 3 in 10 innings and New York 9, St. Louis 1.

McDowell waited a long time before deciding to report to spring training.

Dark said the contract made McDowell the second highest paid pitcher in the American League. Baltimore's Dave McNally was first with a reported $85,000.

McDowell, however, was seeking $100,000 and settled for about a $7,000 raise over his 1970 contract of $65,000. The pact included a reported bonus clause to pay Sam $80,000 for 25 victories and $100,000 for 30.

"The best pitcher in the American League last year isn't even close to being the best paid pitcher in the American League," scoffs McDowell, who led the league in strikeouts, 304, for the third straight year in a 20-12 season.

McDowell and California's Clyde Wright were locked in a strong-armed duel. The Cleveland southpaw had given up only seven hits and struck out eight before he left after seven innings. Wright allowed only six hits in eight innings of work.

John Lowenstein walked to open the Cleveland ninth, moved to third on Graig Nettles' single and roared home on Hodge's fly ball to right.

Carl Yastrzemski socked two doubles and drove in three runs and Reggie Smith lashed a home run and two singles as Boston beated Milwaukee, despite the season's first triple play by the Brewers.

Razorbacks Have Offense

FAYETTEVILLE, Ark. (AP) — The Arkansas Razorbacks ended a two-hour football practice session Wednesday with a 20-minute goal-line scrimmage that produced nine touchdowns in 15 series for the offense.

But the defense had an excuse.

"We gave the defense a new defensive scheme about five minutes before the scrimmage," said head Coach Frank Broyles. "We wanted to try an odd front at the goal line."

Broyles said the scrimmage was "no indication of what the defense is capable of doing."

"We worked very hard on our passing game," Broyles said. He said quarterbacks Walter Nelson and Joe Ferguson were both on target and the receivers had a good day catching the ball.

Broyles singled out Mike Reppond, Jim Hodge and Bobby Nichols for their job of catching the ball.

The Porkers planned another practice session today. They will scrimmage Saturday afternoon at Razorback Stadium.

MILWAUKEE (AP) — "I expect to win it Friday."

Oscar Robertson—the "Big O"—was holding court in the Milwaukee Bucks dressing room Wednesday night following the Bucks' 107-99 victory over the Baltimore Bullets.

Robertson wasn't bragging. He was just being factual.

"We're going to go out after the title Friday," he said. "There's just one more to go."

The Bucks hold a 3-0 lead in their best-of-seven games championship playoff finals with the fourth game scheduled to be held in Baltimore Friday. A victory there would give Milwaukee its first NBA title in only its third year of existence.

Robertson was obtained in a trade by Milwaukee last year. This is the first time in his 11 years in the league that he has played in the championship finals. Unlike the younger Bucks, Oscar has shown no emotion as Milwaukee closes in on the crown.

"It's different when you're not expecting something," he explained. "But I expect to win the championship. I expect to win it Friday."

Robertson scored 20 points and was credited with 12 assists Wednesday as he helped pace the Bucks to victory. High for Milwaukee were Bob Dan-dridge with 29 points and Lew Alcindor with 23.

Several times the Bucks appeared to be running away from Baltimore only to have the Bullets spurt back into contention. The crippled visitors were led by Jack Marin's 21 points and a 20-point performance by Wes Unseld.

"I can't find anything wrong with our defense," said Milwaukee Coach Larry Costello.

"But our offense wasn't sharp at all. We weren't moving the ball, we were dribbling too much."

Costello said the Bullets are "working harder on defense now than they did during the regular season."

"We were up for the game, he said, "We were ready, but we weren't sharp. Part of that could be the Baltimore defense, however."

Southland Granted 114 Day Season

LITTLE ROCK (AP) — The state Racing Commission Wednesday granted Southland a 114-day greyhound season for this year. The approval, however, depends on the outcome of a hearing for the corporation to show cause why its franchise should not be revoked.

No date was set by the commission to hear arguments on whether Southland's franchise should be revoked. Chairman J. W. Benefield of England said this would be decided soon.

A racing season from May 21 to Oct. 26, with Wednesdays and Sundays to be nonracing days was approved by the commission. Southland had requested a season from May 21 to Nov. 8, with Wednesdays and Sundays to be nonracing days until Sept. 4, after which there also would not be racing on Tuesdays.

Dr. M. R. Springer of Hot Springs, the commissioner who made the notion to set the racing dates, said the schedule requested by Southland would be confusing to the public and lengthen the meet over too great a period.

Southland had been refused racing dates by the commission in December. The commission at that time also requested that the corporation supply the state with financial information on the track and on Emprise Corp. of Buffalo, N.Y., the majority stockholder in Southland and which the commission identified as the "parent" firm.

The commission again denied racing dates April 16 on grounds that Southland and Emprise had refused to submit the information the commissioners had sought. Southland said it could not force the New York firm to divulge the information and Emprise representatives said the company did not have to do that because it did not consider itself the parent of Southland.

Subsequently, however, Emprise furnished the Racing Commission with a resume of its stockholders and directors. Both Emprise and Southland also made available financial data on the firms.

John Gill of Little Rock, commission attorney, said he thought Southland's new application was acceptable because the information had been furnished. "I don't care if it comes from the parent or the good fairy, it's here," Gill said.

Gill asked C. B. Nance Jr. of West Memphis, attorney for Southland, to file with the commission information on all litigation in which Emprise is involved, including a federal grand jury indictment handed down earlier this year in Los Angeles. The indictment alleges that Emprise made fictitious loans in connection with the purchase of an interest in a Las Vegas casino.

Both Nance and Alston Jennings of Little Rock, Emprise attorney, denied that the Emprise that is under indictment was the same company as the one that is now the principal stockholder in Southland.

Nance said the Emprise that is under indictment was dissolved by the merger with High Park Corp. on Feb. 18, 1970.

St. Louis Clobbered 9-1 by Mets

Maybe Hollywood would like to remake the old movie Angels in the Outfield. It would star not Angels but Giants, San Francisco variety, with the leading role a tossup among Willie Mays, Bobby Bonds, George Foster and Ken Henderson.

Mays, who singled home the winning run Tuesday night, got a rest Wednesday and Foster and Bonds were the co-stars in a 5-3 victory over Atlanta. Foster ripped two singles, a double and his third homer, driving in three runs, and Bonds slammed home run No. 6 as the game's first hit.

The four flychasers are batting a combined .332 Bonds .357, Mays .349, Foster .314 and Henderson .294 with 16 homers and 43 runs batted in.

Elsewhere in the National League, the New York Mets battered St. Louis 9-1, Pittsburgh held off Los Angeles 7-5, the Chicago Cubs nipped Montreal 3-2, Cincinnati edged San Diego 6-5 and Houston downed Philadelphia 4-3 in 10 innings.

American League scores: Oakland 5, Baltimore 4; Cleveland 3, California 2; Boston 10, Milwaukee 3; Washington 4, Minnesota 3 and Detroit 2, Kansas City 1 in 10 innings. The Chicago White Sox and the Yankees were rained out in New York.

Mays and Bonds are old hands at hammering NL hurlers and Henderson came into his own last season. Now Foster is coming on strong after a slow start.

Foster rapped a run-scoring single in the first inning, an RBI double in the fourth, a solo homer in the sixth and another single in the eighth. Hank Aaron, who got his 600th home run a night earlier, drove in two of the Braves' runs, moving into a sixth-place tie on the all-time list with Mel Ott at 1,860.

The Mets, who whipped St. Louis 12 times in 18 games last year, made it three in a row over the Cards behind Ed Kranepool's continued hot hitting and Gary Gentry's seven-hit pitching. Kranepool drove in three runs with as many hits as the Mets rapped 12 safeties off five Cardinal hurlers, starting with loser Mike Torrez.

Willie Stargell, who has a record 11 homers this month, settled for lesser hits Wednesday. The major leagues' RBI leader boosted his total to 26 with a single in the fourth and a tie-breaking, two-run, two-out double off rookie Bob O'Brien in the seventh following an intentional walk to Roberto Clemente.

"I shouldn't lose my temper," Gordon said later. "He wanted to know what it felt like to stand one game from elimination."

"The guys realize what they're up against," said Gordon. "They've never quit all year. I'm looking for a similar effort again."

Montreal won the first and third games, 7-2 and 6-3, but the North Stars came back to tie the series each time, 6-3 and 5-2.

The Canadiens took the edge again Tuesday night on Ken Dryden's goal tending and the scoring of Pete Mahovich and Guy Lapointe, who had two goals each.

Dryden is expected to make his 13th straight playoff start, the sixth against Minnesota. Cesare Maniago will open in front of Minnesota's net for the fourth straight game.

The Canadiens apparently will be without rugged forward John Ferguson, who injured a thigh muscle and did not accompany the team to Minnesota Wednesday. A doctor was to examine him today to determine if he could catch a flight to the Twin Cities and play in the game.

Stanley Cup Playoff Tonight

NEW YORK (AP) — Regardless of what happens in Thursday night's National Hockey League playoffs—and there definitely will be a nationally televised Stanley Cup game Sunday.

Chicago and Montreal hold 3-2 leads in their best-of-7 semifinal series' and, if both win Thursday night, they'll open the finals in Chicago with CBS telecasting it starting at 2 p.m. EDT, Don V. Ruck, NHL vice president, said Wednesday.

But Chicago will have to win in New York and Montreal will have to do the same in Minnesota in the sixth games of the current round to do so.

Mint Julep a Joke at Ky. Derby

By WILL GRIMSLEY
AP Special Correspondent

LOUISVILLE, Ky. (AP) — "A mint julep, please, said the Kentucky Derby visitor, sliding onto a high stool between a pair of somber beer drinkers at Teek's World Famous New York Bar, just off Fifth and Broadway.

"A what? growled the bartender, a slight man wearing a red jacket and pencil mustache. "A mint julep.

"We don't make em," replied the bartender. "We don't fool with the mint. You'll have to go somewhere else."

Thus a hoary legend was shattered. Race goers may drown themselves in the sweet, syrupy bourbon drink at Churchill Downs during Kentucky Derby Week. But don't try to buy one at your friendly neighborhood bar.

Kentuckians, it seems, are willing to concoct the tall, cool and sometimes intoxicating beverage in fancy glasses and sell them by the thousands to unwitting Derby guests at between $1.50 and $1.65 a throw. But they wouldn't be caught dead gulping the stuff themselves.

"It's really a lousy drink, said a white-haired Negro employe of the Downs, who claims he's been around the old race track for 50 years. "It's too sweet, it's got too much ice and it ain't got much wallop.

"It's okay for the women folks. No two-fisted drinker would touch one."

Yet it's estimated 500,000 will be consumed between now and Saturday, when the Derby will be run for the 97th time. The mint julep has been around since Aristides won the first race in 1875. It's as traditional as My Old Kentucky Home and the twin spires of the club house.

The biggest dent will be made by visitors, who feel half-dressed if they don't return home with one of those fancy mint julep glasses with the Derby history inscribed.

Arguments continue to rage over how the drink was originally conceived and how it should be properly concocted. Legend has it — disputed by Kentuckians — that in the pioneer days a Kentucky boatman came ashore from the Mississippi River to look for some spring water to mix with his bourbon.

He picked a sprig of mint from beside a Mississippi spring and dropped it into the drink. He was so pleased with the result that he took some of the mint back to Kentucky and transplanted it.

Kentuckians insist the mint julep is rooted to the state's culture and tradition. As far back as 1816 silver julep cups were given away as prizes at Kentucky county fairs.

West Virginia, South Carolina and Tennessee all have claimed to be the birthplace of the drink, although most of those who sample the mixture are hard put to understand why. You might as well brag about inventing garlic.

The mint julep is a mixture of bourbon, mint, sugar, water and ice but specialists disagree on how to come up with the perfect concoction.

"You take a tall glass, 12 of 14 ounces," said Edmund (Bud) Kemper, a Louisville bartender.

"You pour in a little water and then add the mint, making sure you don't bruise it. You pour in 1½ ounces of 100 proof bourbon and fill the glass with crushed ice and add powdered sugar. Then you add a little mint on top for effect."

"You have to bleed the mint, argued another specialist."

"After the war there was so much rum left over some people would put some rum on top," said Don Regan, a Louisville post office worker. "And they'd stick a little umbrella on top."

"It can be potent, said a bartender in a local night spot. "If you drink it before the ice melts, you're drinking two shots of straight whisky."

But the mint julep inspired J. Soule Smith, a Kentucky lawyer and journalist of the 1800s, to song:

"No maiden's kiss is tenderer or more refreshing," he said. "No maiden's touch could be more passionate. Sip it and dream — you cannot dream amiss. Sip it and Dream — it is a dream in itself."

Justice Dept. to Hear NHL Complaints

ROCHESTER, N.Y. (AP) — Complaints from a players' association have brought about a U.S. Justice Department investigation of the National Hockey League, the Rochester Democrat & Chronicle reported in this morning's editions.

In a copyright story by Hans Tanner, the paper said the Professional Hockey Players Association had submitted 27 pages of individual player complaints to federal investigators.

"The Justice Department was astounded at the amount and contents of the information we provided," said Curt Lechner, the association's general counsel.

The association represents players in the American and Western Hockey Leagues. Lechner said the association has charged that National Hockey League rules have unfairly forced many players out of the game.

He said the players also complained of inadequate medical payments and of the reserve clause, which binds a player to his team.

The Democrat & Chronicle said a Justice Department spokesman had confirmed the probe, saying:

"We'll be contacting the various National League teams in the near future. We have been obtaining statements and information from other sources now."

The spokesman said the league was under United States jurisdiction because it does business in this country.

Lechner said the player's main complaint concerned rules for so-called "development clubs." Under NHL rules, he said, 10 of the 16 players on development clubs must be under 26, with goaltenders exempted.

Lechner said that when the NHL expanded, each club was required to have a development club, forcing many colder players out of the game.

LOUISVILLE (AP) — Barbi-zon Streak, Vegas Vic and Sole Mio were the first three entries today for the 97th Kentucky Derby.

The three names were handed to racing secretary Doc Lavin before the official opening of the entry box, a practice allowed under the entry rules for Saturday's classic.

Knight Counter was first into the box after the official entry time of 7 a.m. EDT today.

List was the eighth name into the box.

Trainer John Campo made Santa Anita Derby winner Jim French the ninth entry.

Canonero II, the Venezuelan-owned son of Pretendre, was No. 10 in the entry box as the first foreign-raced horse ever to enter the classic. Tribal Line also went into the field for the $125,000-added Derby.

Hello Rise was the sixth name entered for the 1¼-mile race.

Then A.H. Sullivan dropped in Fourulla, the winless colt he bred, owns and trains.

Post time for the 1¼-mile classic, the first race in the Triple Crown series that also includes the Preakness and Belmont Stakes, is 5:30 p.m. Television coverage will be from 5-6 p.m. and radio coverage from 5:15-5:45 p.m., both by CBS.

"He's my Derby horse," is the way trainer Johnny Campo has described Jim French.

The son of Graustark is expected to be the horse of many bettors on Derby Day because as Reggie Cornell, the Calumet trainer, put it:

"He's the horse we've got to beat."

Consistency is Jim French's strong suit. In nine starts this year, he has been on the board eight times. He finished second in the Everglades Stakes but was disqualified and placed fifth.

Jim French's record reads like a travelogue.

He finished third in the Flamingo at Hialeah March 3, went to New York and finished third in the Bay Shore at Aqueduct March 20 and returned south to take third in the Florida Derby at Gulfstream Park. He then flew to California and won the Santa Anita Derby April 3 and went back to Aqueduct to finish fourth in the Wood Memorial.

His two other 1971 victories were in the Dade Metropolitan Handicap and the Bahamas.

Travelers Clobber Memphis

MEMPHIS (AP) — Jorge Roque sparked a five-run seventh inning with a home run over the left field wall as the Arkansas Travelers defeated Memphis 7-1 Wednesday night.

The Travelers are now 7-8 for the season and are in second place in the Central Division of the Dixie Association, three games behind Shreveport.

Roque's homer came after Milt Ramirez started the inning with a double and moved to third when Kenny Reitz grounded out. Memphis pitcher Don Camey allowed a hit and two walks to load the bases and all three runs scored before the inning was over.

Jackie Stripling threw no-hit ball for six innings against the Blues. He picked up the victory for the Travelers.

Paul Schneck scored the Blues' only run on a sacrifice fly by Francisco Estrada in the seventh.

Memphis is now 5-7 for the season and is only a half game behind Arkansas in the standings. The two teams meet again tonight.

In other Dixie action Wednesday, Charlotte edged Columbus 4-3 in 10 innings, Montgomery trounced Jacksonville 9-1, Amarillo defeated Albuquerque 6-3, Shreveport slipped by Birmingham 4-3 and San Antonio defeated Dallas-Fort Worth 6-2. Asheville at Savannah was postponed because of wet grounds.

charged that they were discriminated against because of their age.

Lechner said he and his law partner had been gathering evidence since November and have met with justice department officials several times.

THREE FAMILIAR NAMES among the National League leaders in home runs and RBIs early in the season have been Willie Mays of San Francisco, left, Willie Stargell, of Pittsburgh, center, and Hank Aaron of Atlanta.

NCAA Rules on Jr. College Transfers

KANSAS CITY (AP) — The National Collegiate Athletic Association issued a statement Wednesday clearing up long-standing rules governing mid-year junior college transfers.

As a result, many accepted by NCAA member schools at midyear will not be eligible to compete the next academic year as they may have been led to believe.

The NCAA Council said junior college transfers must fall in one of three categories to be eligible to compete in NCAA sports.

They either must be (1) junior college graduates, (2) have spent two years at a junior college and have 48 hours of transferable credits, or (3) transfer after one year at a junior college with a minimum of 24 semester hours of credit with a 2.5 average.

The NCAA said apparently some members had accepted midyear transfers with 48 hours credit but who had spent only three semesters in junior college, and did not have the 2.5 academic requirement.

The NCAA Council ruled that these athletes shall be ineligible for intercollegiate competition during 1971-72. It also said the member schools involved are required to provide them financial aid during their interim period of ineligibility.

An NCAA spokesman said football is the principal sport affected.

Rangers and Black Hawks in Faceoff

NEW YORK (AP) — Hockey fans remember the big goal and the clutch save but right now, the thing the New York Rangers and Chicago Black Hawks remember best is a simple faceoff.

A faceoff is hockey's way to get play started. And it was a faceoff won by Chicago's Pit Martin that set up Bobby Hull's overtime goal which gave the Black Hawks the vital fifth game victory and a 3-2 edge over the Rangers in their Best-of-seven Stanley Cup semifinal playoff.

The teams meet in Game Six tonight and the Hawks can wrap it up with another victory. If the Rangers win, it will force a seventh game in Chicago Sunday.

Coaches like to match lines according to the individual talents of their skaters. Emile Francis, for example, decided he needed more defense after the Hawks exploded for seven goals in the fourth game of the series and so he benched regulars Ted Irvine, Bruce MacGregor and Dave Balon for Game Five.

Another of Francis' strategies had been to match up center Walt Tkaczuk against Chicago pivot Pit Martin. Centers generally go against each other on faceoffs and Tkaczuk had been beating Martin to the draw constantly during this series.

So it was no surprise to find Tkaczuk facing Martin deep in New York's end of the ice some 6½ minutes into Tuesday's overtime period.

"He was beating me all night," said Martin, but finally in the third period, I seemed to be getting my timing back."

This time, Tkaczuk lost the draw. Martin swept the puck back to Hull and Bobby unloaded with an ice-skimming shot that buzzed just inside the left post before Ranger goalie Ed Giacomin had a chance to move on it.

Afterwards, Hull shared the hero's role with Martin, the diminutive center who had missed two exceptional scoring opportunities in the final moments of regulation time.

Lockton Resigns at Speedway

ONTARIO, Calif. (AP) — The youthful president of Ontario Motor Speedway, David B. Lockton, has resigned, say officials of the $25 million track.

Spokesmen here said Lockton, 34, submitted his resignation Wednesday in New York to board chairman Dan W. Lufkin.

Lockton, an Indianapolis lawyer who became the speedway's third president in March 1969, explained he wanted to pursue other interests and "had planned only to see the track through its promotional period."

Lufkin said Lockton will become vice chairman of the board. "He has been a driving force behind the success of the speedway and his future contribution will be a significant one," Lufkin said.

A three-man team headed by general manager Ray T. Smartis has been named to manage the track. Smartis has directed the track's planning and construction. Named to assist him were executive vice presidents Dallas Gardner and Monty Roberts.

The largest crowd in California sports history, 180,000, saw the California 500 at Ontario last November. Attendance declined to 68,000 for the Questor Grand Prix last month, prompting rumors of a shakeup.

Chiefs File Suit Against Ernie Ladd

KANSAS CITY (AP) — The Kansas City Chiefs of the National Football League have filed a $16,000 lawsuit in Jackson County Circuit Court against former defensive tackle Ernie Ladd.

The suit, charging that Ladd failed to fulfill his contract when he retired from football last July, asks compensation for advance payments totaling $16,000 plus interest on the pre-paid salary.

The contract originally ran through May of 1970 but was extended to May 1971 when Ladd was injured and couldn't play the 1969 season, the suit alleges.

Ladd announced his retirement at the start of the extended contract season.

The 6-foot-9, 300-pound Ladd recently has pursued a wrestling career and is known as "The Big Cat." He lives in Houston.

No hearing date was set for the case.

ing away. So you know I got to be serious about it."

Trevino, a fast-talking guy with an infectious grin, broke a year-long victory drought last week when he took down the $12,000 first prize in the satellite Tallahassee Open.

"In a tournament like that, I just had to win," he said. "I got to win that one to break even on expenses for the week. Second or third don't do it."

"Besides, I got tired of shooting all those fancy scores and not winning. Shooting lights out and I don't win. Had enough of that stuff."

Trevino was edged out of two titles by a total of three strokes as Gary Player scored consecutive victories earlier this season. In all, the 1968 U.S. Open title-holder has been 10th or better six times this season. He's won over $66,000.

Trevino, who now has won six titles in less than four full years on the tour, was one of the top candidates for the $25,000 first prize in this 72-hole event on the Lakewood Country Club course.

Veteran Billy Casper, with almost $85,000 in winnings this year and three second-place finishes, is the co-favorite in the field that also includes Masters king Charles Coody, defending title-holder Miller Barber and such threats as Frank Beard, Dave Hill and Bob Murphy.

Jack Nicklaus, Arnold Palmer, Player and England's Tony Jacklin, the current U.S. Open king, are not competing.

Boyle Ousted From UMW Welfare Post

By JOHN STOWELL
Associated Press Writer

WASHINGTON (AP) — W.A. "Tony" Boyle, embattled United Mine Workers president, has been ordered to step down as a trustee of the union's welfare and pension fund on grounds he mismanaged the $457.1-million program.

In upholding a civil suit brought by more than 70 dissident miners and their families, U.S. Dist. Court Judge Gerhard A. Gesell was critical Wednesday of storing UMW funds in noninterest-bearing accounts in a union-owned bank.

The judge accused the 66-year-old Boyle of making "a hasty power play" by boosting retirement benefits $35 a month in June 1969 at his first meeting as a trustee and six months before he sought re-election.

Gesell ordered Boyle and Miss Josephine Roche, 84, to step down as trustees of the 21-year-old fund and directed the union to withdraw its money from the National Bank of Washington. The judge set a June 30 deadline for compliance, saying the union urgently needs a reform of its fund practices.

At the same time, the judge set a June 21 hearing to settle the question of any compensatory damages for union members for the three years preceding filing of the suit in August 1969, but he ruled out punitive damages.

Testimony during the nonjury trial disclosed that as much as $81.5 million in union funds sometimes was held in checking accounts and certificates of deposit.

Boyle said the late John L. Lewis, whom he succeeded as UMW president, had insisted the welfare and retirement fund be kept in a fluid state. Miss Roche said Lewis feared the union might be taxed by the federal government.

Judge Gesell said the practice of keeping multimillion-dollar cash deposits was an illegal conspiracy balking retired miners of investment income.

Rep. Ken Hechler, D-W.Va., hailed the decision as a victory of "the forces of decency" within the union.

Noting Boyle earlier was ordered removed as bank director, Hechler said: "It won't be too long before he is removed as president of the UMW."

Boyle was unavailable for comment.

The court also found Boyle, the UMW, and several other fund trustees liable for an alleged conspiracy involving investment of pension funds in several utility companies. Gesell's 45-page opinion noted the union purchased 50,000 shares of stock in Cleveland Electric Illuminating in the early 1960s at a time when the UMW was trying to force the utility to buy union-mined coal.

The court decision was the latest in a series of UMW leadership setbacks which began shortly after Boyle's re-election. In December 1969, rival UMW presidential candidate Joseph Yablonski, 59, his wife and daughter were shot to death in their Clarksville, Pa., home. Five persons including a local UMW official in Tennessee have been charged in the deaths.

In early 1970 a Senate Labor subcommittee conducted three days of hearings into UMW activities. The chairman, Sen. Harrison A. Williams, D-N.J., concluded "there was political motivation" in the $30-million boost in pension payments shortly before the union election. The 70,000 retired miners form an effective block in balloting for national officers.

A special grand jury last month returned 13 indictments accusing Boyle of embezzling $49,250 to 11 political campaign committees, in violation of the Federal Corrupt Practices Act. Pending in U.S. District Court in Washington is a Justice Department suit seeking to set aside the 1969 UMW election results because of alleged widespread violations of federal labor law.

Louisiana Official's Stock Hidden

NEW ORLEANS (AP) — A

former accountant for Louisiana Loan & Thrift Corp. has testified he saw a notation in the LL&T office instructing all stock belonging to Atty. Gen. Jack Gremillion be kept in the name of attorney William Glennon.

August Wegmann, certified public accountant for the firm from July 1967 to March 1968, was a prosecution witness Wednesday in the fraud and conspiracy trial of Gremillion, state Rep. Salvatore Anzelmo and Ernest Bartlett Jr., an Arkansas businessman.

Wegmann said his examination of the company showed that it "could not possibly make profit" the way it was being operated.

LL&T was formed in 1966 and home. Five persons including a local UMW official in Tennessee have been charged in the deaths.

The defendants are charged with being active in the firm's downfall and attempting to keep it from coming under supervision of the Securities and Exchange Commission.

Wegmann said his examination of records upon his employment revealed loan files to be inaccurate. He said he was unable to see any of the firm's stock ledgers.

On the records he did see, Wegmann testified, was the notation instructing that Gremillion's stock be placed in the name of Glennon.

Glennon, legal counsel for LL&T, was named a co-conspirator by the government. But he was not indicted.

Lem Bryan, another prosecution witness, identified minutes of two 1966 LL&T board meetings, which indicated that Gov. John McKeithen and Dist. Atty. John Garrison of New Orleans were considered by LL&T's board chairman to be helpful and cooperative in founding the firm.

Bryan identified minutes of a Feb. 6, 1966, meeting which said: "Bartlett (board chairman) stated he believed one of the major contributions to the company was in the person of Mr.

Hyndman Tops at 55

By KEN ALYTA
Associated Press Sports Writer

PINEHURST, N.C. (AP) — Bill Hyndman, at 55 years of age, is one of amateur golf's elder statesmen. But one thing sets him apart from others in his age bracket. He's still quite a player.

The insurance executive from Huntingdon Valley, Pa., was paired with 21-year-old national amateur champion Lanny Wadkins in today's fourth round of the North and South amateur tournament. It's the third straight year the two have met in the fourth round, each having won once.

Hyndman's one-over-par play in three victories this week points up the wisdom of the USGA committee that named him to the Walker Cup team that plays the British at St. Andrews in Scotland next month.

In being named to the team for the fifth time, Hyndman became the oldest player ever chosen to represent the United States.

OTB Wagers Running Light

NEW YORK (AP) — Three

$50 win tickets on Unconscious by an unidentified man appeared to be the largest individual wager made Wednesday on the first day of legalized off-track betting on the Kentucky Derby by the New York Off-track Betting Corporation.

Unconscious won the California Derby and is listed at 10-1 in the OTB early line. Most of the other bets were of the $2 variety including two tickets by Mayor Lindsay on Jim French, who beat Unconscious in the Santa Anita Derby, and is the OTB 4-1 early favorite. The OTB is running its own pool on the Derby with win and exacta betting only. A spokesman said the OTB planned to give out the total amount of Derby bets tonight and would list a revised line Friday morning based on the actual amount of money bet on each horse entered.

Planes in Clash Over N. Vietnam

By GEORGE ESPER
Associated Press Writer

SAIGON (AP) — U.S. Navy planes tangled with enemy missiles over North Vietnam for the second time in six days and attacked anti-aircraft batteries 85 and 115 miles northwest of the demilitarized zone, the U.S. Command announced today.

The planes were on a mission Wednesday to photograph North Vietnam's air defenses and supply routes to the south.

The command said the North Vietnamese fired four SAM2 missiles and a number of 37mm anti-aircraft shells at the Navy RFI photo reconnaissance plane and its two fighter-bomber escorts. The fighter-bombers retaliated with one air-to-ground missile and eight bombs. Results of the American attack were not known, the U.S. Command said.

Hanoi's Vietnam News Agency claimed that a U.S. jet was shot down Wednesday in Ha Tinh Province, but the U.S. Command said the three Navy planes returned safely to the carrier Hancock, in the Gulf of Tonkin.

One informant indicated that U.S. reconnaissance missions have been increased since the end of the South Vietnamese drive in Laos last month.

The U.S. Command said there have been 31 "protective reaction" strikes against threatening positions inside North Vietnam so far this year, more than four times the number reported in all of last year.

The U.S. Command also announced that 45 U.S. servicemen were killed in action last week, pushing the total American battlefield deaths in the war past the 45,000 mark to 45,019. The command reported 518 Americans wounded and 27 dead of nonhostile causes, raising the totals in those categories to 298,289 and 9,486.

The U.S. Command also reported that a Marine OV10 armed reconnaissance plane was shot down in South Vietnam nine miles northwest of Da Nang Wednesday and the two crewmen were killed.

South Korean forces claimed killing 81 North Vietnamese and Viet Cong troops in an offensive by 25,000 Korean infantrymen and marines along a 200-mile stretch of South Vietnam's central coast. Five Koreans were reported wounded.

South Vietnamese forces in eastern Cambodia said they killed 41 North Vietnamese and Viet Cong in two clashes Wednesday. One South Vietnamese was reported killed and six wounded.

Also in Cambodia, sporadic enemy shelling was reported around the outer defense perimeter of Phnom Penh and against government positions along Highway 4 southwest of the capital.

Government troops reported killing 57 North Vietnamese Wednesday in heavy fighting near the highway about 55 miles southwest of Phnom Penh where government units have been under attack all week. No further fighting was reported today.

French Police Hold Chinese After Fight With Legation Staff

By JOHN VINOCUR
Associated Press Writer

PARIS (AP) — French police held a drugged Chinese under guard today, waiting to hear his story, after taking him away from officials of the Chinese Embassy who were trying to put him on a plane for Shanghai.

Chinese diplomats, who fought with airport police Wednesday in a vain attempt to get the man back, accused the French of kidnapping him and said they would pursue the matter through diplomatic channels.

The drugged man, Chung Shijung, was under guard in the maximum security ward of a hospital around the corner from Paris police headquarters.

"When he's back to normal, he'll be free to decide if he wants to stay in France, to return home or to go to any other place of his choice," an officer said.

FAST START
LONDON (AP) — Constable Andrew Tait caught his first criminal on his first day out of training college. He was studying procedure at a court when he spotted a man stealing a top coat from the public gallery.

The incident posed a delicate problem for the French government, which had good relations with Peking long before this month's Ping-Pong thaw. The government television network, normally a good gauge of official attitudes, gave the story very low-key treatment in reporting it Wednesday night.

Chung had been a technical counselor attached to the Chinese Embassy in Algiers. It was reported he recently made contact with the French Embassy there, telling officials he would try to defect as he passed through Paris en route back to China.

Chung was semiconscious and assisted by several Mao-suited Chinese when he arrived at Orly Airport Wednesday to take a Pakistani airliner to Shanghai.

The airport police stepped in and called a doctor who said Chung apparently had been drugged and was not in condition to travel. There were needle marks on his arms and he was wearing half a dozen pullovers, indicating he had been injected with tranquilizers which normally lower the body temperature.

When the police refused to turn Chung back to his companions, they tried to push into the office where Chung was held. Scuffles broke out on three occasions; officials from the Chinese Embassy screamed, "Fascists! Fascists!" as they were herded into a detention office.

Under cover of the disturbance, the police spirited Chung off to the hospital.

The Chinese officials then harangued newsmen.

Vocational School for Juveniles

LITTLE ROCK (AP) — The state Juvenile Training School Board was told Wednesday that bids would be opened May 11 for the construction of a new vocational - technical school building at Wrightsville.

The board approved the expenditure of $6,250 for a new work-study program for vocational-technical students at the training schools.

In other action Wednesday, the board voted to approve transfer of a 16-year-old girl from the state women's reformatory to the girls' juvenile training school if the girl receives a favorable evaluation from the school's reception and classification center.

The state Department of Correction discovered two weeks ago that the girl, Miss Latrelle Harbour of Dallas, Tex., as 16 instead of 19 as she had maintained.

9 Arkansas Students Get Award
EVANSTON, Ill. (AP) —Nine Arkansas high school seniors were among 1,000 seniors nationally who were named today as winners of $1,000 National Merit Scholarships by Edward C. Smith, president of the National Merit Scholarship Corp.
The scholarships are non-renewable one-time awards, each providing a $1,000 grant payable to the winner next fall after he enrolls as a full-time student in an accredited college or university. The awards are underwritten by 215 sponsoring organizations.
The Arkansas winners are Betty Blakley of Benton, Linda Ann Furst of Fayetteville, Denise A. Smith of Fayetteville, Janet A. Seiz of Hot Springs, Ginger Ashcraft of Pine Bluff, Jarrett T. Marquis of Rogers, Joan A. Jacobson of Russellville, Allan J. Mesko of Siloam Springs and Elaine F. Light of West Helena.

CBS Film on Pentagon Nominated

EMMYS HOLLYWOOD (AP) — The Columbia Broadcasting System's controversial documentary, "The Selling of the Pentagon," is one of 31 news nominees for Emmys announced by the National Academy of Television Arts and Sciences.
The program, a critical report on the military's public relations activities, became the subject of a House investigation.

Tuesday's nominations were for television news and documentary programs. The National Broadcasting Co. led with 14 nominations, followed by CBS with 11. The Public Broadcasting Service took five nominations and the American Broadcasting Co. one. Winners will be announced May 7 and the 23rd annual Emmy Awards show will be aired on NBC May 9.

Shepard Promoted by Navy

By ROBERT A. DOBKIN
AP Military Writer
WASHINGTON (AP) — The Navy announced today selection of 49 officers for promotion to rear admiral, including the first Negro to be so honored and astronaut Alan B. Shepard Jr., America's first man in space.
Shepard, 47, was commander of the Apollo 14 crew which landed on the moon Feb. 4, climbing a space career that began in 1959 when he was selected as one of seven military test pilots to undergo astronaut training.
Shepard is the second astronaut to win promotion to star rank. James A. McDivitt was made an Air Force brigadier general last year.
Capt. Samuel L. Gravely Jr. of Richmond, Va., will become the first black admiral in U.S. naval history.
Gravely, commander of the guided missile frigate Jouett, is en route home from a seven-month cruise off the Vietnamese coast.
The promotions were forwarded by the White House for approval by President Nixon.

Additional SS Increases
Possible

WASHINGTON (AP) — Possibilities of additional Social Security benefit increases and more federal help for states with large welfare programs were being discussed today as the House Ways and Means Committee took a break in its deliberations.

The committee had almost finished its basic work on a complex Social Security-Welfare reform measure when it recessed Wednesday until next week, officially to allow time for drafting of legislative language.

It was understood, however, handlers of the controversial legislation were exploring additions that might enhance its chances of passage.

One was said to be an increase, perhaps of 5 per cent, in Social Security benefits next year and possibly a second increase a year later.

The benefits already have been increased 10 per cent effective Jan. 1, 1971, although additional payments will not actually be disbursed until June.

The bill as it now stands provides for future cost of living increases.

Another change said to be under consideration would be aimed at criticism of the welfare provisions of the bill. The critics charge that as it now stands the bill would give more federal fiscal relief to states with limited welfare programs than to those, such as New York and California, which pay their benefits to more people.

As drafted, the bill provides for a gradual federal takeover of the whole cost of welfare for the aged, blind, and disabled.

The big category of families maintaining dependent children, including the working poor, it would establish a federal level during $2,400 yearly income for four persons, with provisions requiring work training and job referrals for adults.

States wished to maintain the above that level, they would have to do so entirely out of their own funds.

At the Scout-O-Rama in Texarkana Saturday, April 17, Hope was well represented and brought back honors all the way. Approximately 86 units from the 10 County Caddo Area Council were entered.

Boy Scout Troop 91, sponsored by Hope Lions Club entered a booth on "Automobile Safety". A wrecked car, with the pictures and write-up from the Hope Star, was the central attraction. Posters made by the Scouts were displayed. Sgt. Ray Davis of the Arkansas State Police judged the posters and winner of a Scout axe for 1st place was Mike Worthy. Second place winner was Steve Cox. Sgt. Davis was on hand throughout the day to assist as the Scouts passed out pamphlets on traffic safety and talked about things they had learned in the Drivers class which they completed recently. For their booth, Troop 91 received the first place ribbon, the Award of Merit and Honor. Tie for top ticket sales in Troop 91 were Tommy Bryant and Donald Hollis. Scoutmasters for Troop 91 are Olen Overturf and James Luck.

Among those participating were Boy Scout Troop 92 and Explorer Post 92 sponsored by the Presbyterian Church. The troop and the post worked together to build a display that depicted pioneer camping with equipment made from bamboo lashed together, with a donkey for packing and riding and modern day camping with tents and reflector ovens etc., with a motorcycle for packing and riding. The boys had worked many weeks preparing the various pieces for this display and were justifiably proud when Scoutmaster Harold Sisson was presented with a 1st place ribbon, Award of Merit and Honor, by the judges. The boys who participated Saturday were Ricky Adkinson, Ricky Sisson, Glenn Cockran, Tim Arnold, Corby Wiggins (and his Donkey), Ted Tolleson, John Walker, Greg Impson, Paul and Larry Patton, Robert Willis, Donnie Dougan, Jim Stuart, and Clayton Morgan. Mr. Sisson was assisted by Billie Dougan and William Morgan.

Cub Scout Pack 62, sponsored by Garland School P.T.A. entered a booth on "Family Fun" and 9 Cub made games were set up to the public to enjoy playing. The top ticket salesman for the Pack was Steve Hackler. The booth was awarded a first place ribbon. Cubmaster for Pack 62 is Alfred Haddix. Den Mothers are Mrs. Jess Anderson, Mrs. Alvin Haddix, Mrs. Robert Vandiver, and Mrs. Hansford Long. Webelos leader is Jess Anderson, Cubs participating were Jerry Anderson, Timothy Hawthorne, Greg Gough, Travis Kidd, Sandy Huckabee, Sam Brittain, Allen Haddix, Mack Garrett, Dana Biddle, Mike Gilbert, Chip Snowden, Stacy Walton, Mark Haddix, Bob Vandiver, Scott Martin, Steve Hackler, Steve Smith, Gene McMahan, Jerry Long, Allen Bohanan, and Bill Fuller.

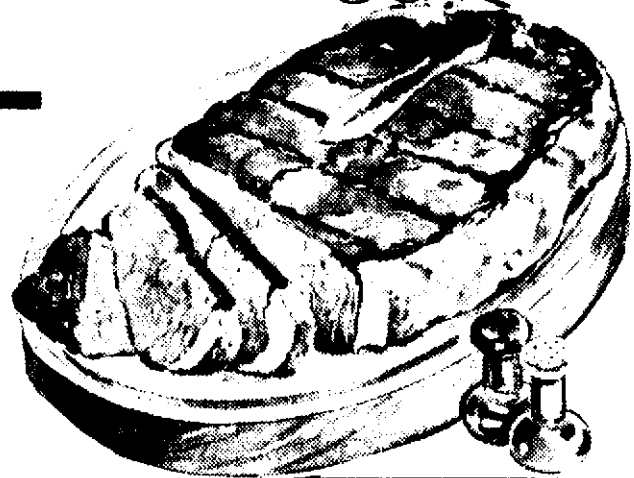

Also participating were the members of Pack 92 sponsored by Brookwood School. These boys had made posters expressing their concern for our ecology and then began promptly at 2:00 p.m. to build their display from the little people attending the Scout-O-Rama were leaving behind them. By 4:00 when the rain finally made them pack up their display, it already showed signs of being mountainous in size. They wanted to show people that we all are litter bugs and were very busy picking up after them. Participating were Anthony Hines, John Aaron Scott, Joe Van Horn, Scott Patton, Mark Moore, Robert Holt, Alvin Hodges, and Eric Cofield. Cubmaster Don Cofield was assisted by Webelos Leader Richard Van Horn and Den Mothers Mrs. Albert Patton and Mrs. Richard Van Horn. For a number of the boys and their leaders this was a first time for such an event and so they were pleased when they received a 3rd place ribbon. They had all been much impressed with the calibre of the displays that boys from Arkansas and Texas had built. Though the rain was sorely needed, it was a shame to see such hard work and enthusiasm brought to a quick halt before show time was over.

Blytheville School Head Warns Pupils

BLYTHERVILLE, Ark. (AP)—L. D. Harris, superintendent of schools at Blytheville, has warned students in the city's junior and senior high schools that further disruptions by blacks or whites will not be tolerated.
 Harris said that any student, night with Pensacola (Fla.) Junior College.
 Fuller averaged 50.9 points a game last season.

black or white, who participates in a walkout, boycott or demonstration will be suspended.
 Recently, students have held two walkouts and a four-day boycott of classes. There has been no disruption since the suspension regulations went into effect Monday, Harris said.
 Harris said that special consideration had been given to students who participated in the boycotts and walkouts, but there would be no clemency for the remaining days of the school term.
 "Those who walk out can keep on walking and those who boycott can keep on boycotting," Harris said.

Favors Hike in U.S. State Wage Levels

By ROBERT SHAW
Associated Press Writer
LITTLE ROCK (AP) — Dale Cline, the new state labor commissioner, says there should be an increase in the state minimum wage as well as a raise in the federal minimum.

Cline says an increase in the federal minimum of $1.60 an hour is badly needed and that he heartily endorses the proposal by Rep. Wilbur D. Mills, D-Ark., to peg the wage at $2. If the federal minimum is raised, he said, the state should go to $1.50 or $1.60, which he said would be a "realistic level."

The current state minimum is $1.20 an hour and it will not be increased without new legislative authorization. The final raise in the minimum under current law was 10 cents on Jan. 1.

Cline said an increase in the minimum probably would be among his department's recommendations to the legislature in 1973. There is a possibility such a recommendation would be made to the General Assembly if it meets in special session before then, the commissioner said.

Cline said the state minimum should be reviewed each time the legislature meets "with the idea in mind of upgrading it, increasing it each time according to economic conditions that prevail then."

The state minimum wage must be paid by every employer in the state who has at least five employees and who is not covered by the federal law, with some exceptions.

Cline, 41, an El Dorado resident, was named labor commissioner by Gov. Dale Bumpers to replace Arthur Hays, the appointee of former Gov. Winthrop Rockefeller. Cline assumed the job April 1.

A member of the Oil, Chemical and Atomic Workers International Union, Cline was recommended for the position by the state AFL-CIO and the building and trades council. He was working temporarily as an international representative of his union before receiving the appointment.

Cline was an operator at the American Oil Co. refinery at El Dorado before taking the temporary assignment with the union. He had worked for American Oil for 17 years.

A former member of the Union County Democratic Committee, Cline has worked in the campaigns of several Democratic candidates, including David Pryor when Pryor won his congressional seat in 1966 and gubernatorial nominee Marion S. Crank in 1968. He labored last year in behalf of Bumpers.

"Hired hands can't give money — they give time and effort — and that's what I did (in Bumpers' campaign)," Cline said.

What persuaded him to accept the job of labor commissioner?

"I felt there was a job over there that needed to be done for the working people of the

To Appear at State Quartet Convention

Attending the Arkansas State Quartet Convention May 1 and 2 in the City Hall Auditorium will be the Monarchs IV, from Jonesboro, Ark., a group nominated as one of the most new talents of 1970. The group consists of two men and two ladies (Husbands and wives), Jim and Mary Ann Ballard, and Bill and Kathryn Booher. The Convention will begin Saturday night at 7:30 and Sunday morning at 10:30, and every one is invited to come hear this quartet and quartets from several other states as well as quartets from all over Arkansas. There is no admission.

state," Cline said. "I wasn't too sure it was being done the way it should be."

He would not elaborate, except to say "this was the feeling that was prevalent in labor throughout the state."

Cline said his department's biggest concern at the moment was to gear the agency to be the enforcing agency in Arkansas under the new federal Occupational Health and Safety Act, which he said was designed to assure "as far as possible every man and woman in the nation a safe and healthful working conditions and to preserve our human resources."

The commissioner said his department would apply for the contract to be the enforcement agency. If it does not receive the contract, he said, the U.S. Labor Department will enforce the regulations of the act.

With the contract, the state department would become eligible for federal matching money. Cline said the federal funds would allow him to enlarge his safety inspector staff from nine to at least 18.

He said enforcement of the act could become his department's most important function.

Try to Stop Amtrak Before It Starts

By CARL C. CRAFT
Associated Press Writer
WASHINGTON (AP) — National Railroad Passenger Corp. critics pleaded today for Congress and federal courts to grab the emergency cords and stop Amtrak even before it starts running its cutback collection of trains.

But, argued a spokesman for the embattled corporation, "We've done the best we can, we've told it like it is, and until either Congress or the courts tell us differently, we're going ahead under the law to meet that Saturday starting date."

Senate and House Commerce committees arranged continued Amtrak hearings today, while four suits were on U.S. District Court dockets here in connection with various issues involving the rail passenger system's plans.

The case for sudden delay has influential advocates on Capitol Hill—most of them from areas due to get little or no train service under current Amtrak network arrangements. Among them is Democratic Leader Mike Mansfield of Montana who promises to rush to the Senate floor any bill that can stall the start of Amtrak's proposed intercity system for six months.

Other Amtrak plan-delay leaders are Senate Commerce Committee Chairman Warren G. Magnuson, D-Wash., and his House counterpart, Harley O. Staggers, D-W.Va., who recently wrote Amtrak Board Chairman David W. Kendall urging steps to "preclude discontinuances of all existing service until Sept. 20."

Yet, the strongest voice remained Mansfield's. Repeatedly hostile to the new corporation's plans because he is unhappy over the one line planned for his home state, he told colleagues Wednesday:

"If Amtrak—or, perhaps, it should be called Halftrack as far as Montana is concerned—begins Saturday, it could well be a day of calamity for public transportation."

With that, and Magnuson's agreement with the Mansfield tactic, Commerce Committee aides quickly assembled proposed amendments for the 1970 Amtrak act. Magnuson called the panel to a private session today to review them.

Other Senate pressures could include a stall in acting on President Nixon's generally noncontroversial eight nominees for a new Amtrak board of directors—six of them carryovers, the others, Secretary of Transportation John A. Volpe and the corporation's new acting president, Roger Lewis.

Illinois Refuses Extradition

LANSING, Mich. (AP)—Gov. William G. Milliken of Michigan said Wednesday that Lester Stiggers, 21, who was convicted of killing his father in Arkansas in 1965, will not be extradited to Arkansas to serve the remainder of his life sentence.

"I have concluded that extradition would not serve the ends of justice, the needs of society nor the rehabilitation of Mr. Stiggers," Milliken said.

Much attention has been focused on Stiggers' case in Michigan because of his contention that he would be killed if he

Turkey Next Stop for Secy. Rogers

PARIS (AP) — Secretary of State William P. Rogers flew to Turkey and the Middle East, to exchange views with French Foreign Minister Maurice Schumann on ways to bring peace between Arabs and Israel.

In a British television interview being broadcast today, Rogers reaffirmed that the aim of his Middle East swing is "to see if we can't exchange ideas with the parties, see if we can't move them a little bit closer together."

Specifically, Rogers saw rival Egyptian and Israeli proposals for reopening the Suez Canal as the best prospect for reaching a partial accord that in turn could spur movement toward an over-all peace agreement.

"Egypt would like to open was forced to return to the Arkansas prison from which he escaped. Milliken admitted that Stiggers' fears were considered, but he said the principal reason for his decision not to return Stiggers to Arkansas was Stiggers' progress toward rehabilitation while in jail in Michigan.

Gov. Dale Bumpers said at Little Rock that no other steps could be taken to return Stiggers.

"By the expiration of my administration, I hope there will never be any cause again for a governor to refuse to extradite a man to Arkansas," Bumpers said.

M. Gerald Schwartzbach, Stiggers' attorney, woke his client in the Wayne County Jail in Detroit to tell him he was free. He quoted Stiggers as saying, "Oh my. Oh, I feel so good. I'd better go get my clothes together."

Stiggers received a five-day furlough from prison in February 1970 but went to Detroit, where his mother lived. He did not return and the Detroit police arrested him on a fugitive warrant.

Racing Body Denies Secret Meet Storm

LITTLE ROCK (AP) — J. W. "Buddy" Benafield of England, chairman of the state Racing commission, Wednesday night denied reports that the commission held a meeting Tuesday night at the Little Rock Club.

"A few of us just got together to have dinner and cocktails but we didn't have a meeting," Benafield said. "I had never seen nor met these gentlemen. They were in town to attend Wednesday's (Racing Commission) meeting, so I invited them up for dinner."

A reporter for a Little Rock television station reported seeing all five commission members along with commission attorney John Gill at the dinner meeting Tuesday night.

The Racing Commission held a public meeting Wednesday at which racing dates for Southland Racing Corp. of West Memphis were set. Southland operates a greyhound racing track at West Memphis.

Benafield, who was appointed chairman of the commission earlier this month by Gov. Dale Bumpers, said he did not realize that such a "get together" might be in violation of the Freedom of Information Act.

"There was no business discussed at the meeting," Benafield said. "We just had dinner to get to know each other better."

He said he did not think there was any mention of Southland's racing dates at Tuesday's gathering, but added, "If there was there wasn't anything meant by it. I'll assure you there was no business transacted."

Sen. Oscar Alagood of Little Rock introduced a bill in the 1971 legislature that would exempt social gatherings from the provisions of the act, which requires notification of news media of meetings. The bill was later withdrawn.

Benafield also denied reports that the distribution of complimentary racing passes for the greyhound season was discussed at an executive session meeting following Wednesday's public commission meeting.

"All we discussed in that executive session was the hiring of some employees," Benafield said. "I don't recall the passes being brought up at all."

The Freedom of Information Act allows executive sessions only to discuss personnel matters.

it," he said, "Israel would like to have it open, the United States favors it, the Soviet Union does and so do all the nations in the area."

The secretary of state emphasized he does not expect to have a Suez deal in hand when he returns to Washington around May 10. The Egyptian and Israeli demands are still far apart, particularly on what would happen if Israeli troops withdrew from the east bank of the canal as proposed by Egypt. Israel wants assurances against a cross-over by Egyptian forces.

Speaking after the two-day meeting in London of the Southeast Asia Treaty Organization, Rogers took a somewhat reserved view of Red China's policy in the light of the recent visit by the U.S. table tennis team and newsmen.

While Peking's "recent overtures" are encouraging, he said, "Communist China hasn't changed its basic policy at all."

"They're expansionists in many ways," he said, and while Peking had not been expected to actually send ground forces into Laos or South Vietnam, it "obviously would like to have greater influence in that area."

He doubted that journalist Edgar Snow's report of an invitation by Mao Tse-tung for a visit by President Nixon "was a serious invitation in that sense." He suggested a trip by Nixon to China would be impractical until Peking made "great progress" in its foreign relations.

Asked whether U.S. policy is "to encourage friction between China and Russia or should it be to stand aside totally," Rogers replied:

"Well, we are interested bystanders and we would hope that we could get along better with both the Soviet Union and Communist China, and that is our policy. We are pursuing a policy of attempting to have improved relations with the Soviet Union and to have better relations with Communist China."

Push Probe of FBI Actions

By JAY PERKINS,
Associated Press Writer

WASHINGTON (AP) — A committee of educators and three former Justice Department officials, including one-time Atty. Gen. Ramsey Clark, says it will conduct an investigation of the FBI's role in American life.

The announcement followed a
Nixon administration decision
Tuesday to ask the Supreme Court to rule there is no need for prior court approval for wire tapping in domestic national security cases.

And it occurred as the head of the Justice Department's internal security division contended the government has not only a right but an obligation to gather information on groups and individuals it feels are violence prone.

The committee, in a news conference statement, said "It is clear that widespread public concern exists about the lawfulness of some FBI operations and the fairness with which it pursues them."

"Revelations of some of the activities of the bureau in surveillance of private citizens and in what can only be called political intimidation of various individuals and groups has focused attention on the operations of this federal police force," the committee said.

Conducting the study will be the year-old Committee for Public Justice, which includes
Clark, former Asst. Atty. Gen.
Burke Marshall, Roger Wilkins,
a former director of Justice's
Community Relations Service, and educators from the Woodrow Wilson School of Princeton University.

Marshall, Wilkins and Duane Lockard of Princeton told the news conference the FBI said they wanted lawyers, prosecutors, police and educators familiar with the agency to participate in the inquiry. They said no one had yet asked FBI director J. Edgar Hoover to participate but an invitation may be issued.

The study will be "a clear, dispassionate review," Wilkins said. He added "Neither Burke nor I want to give the impression that the bureau was just dandy when we were there and it's turned horrible since we left."

Marshall agreed, saying "The bureau may have been on its unmanageable course for several years and this could have been looked at earlier." Clark and Hoover have been at odds recently with the former attorney general calling for the director's resignation and the FBI chief describing his former boss as a "jellyfish," among other things.

Clark headed the Justice Department toward the end of the Johnson administration, the same time period Marshall and Wilkins were in their jobs.

As Tuesday, Solicitor General Edwin K. Griswold announced the Justice Department will appeal a lower court ruling that would restrict electronic surveillance of citizens in domestic national security cases. Two district courts have ruled against the government's position.
